Waldorf Education Changes Lives...

About a dozen years ago, one family, then another, moved within earshot of our home. The children of these families were not 'ordinary' kids. These children were 'extra-ordinary' kids, magical, full of wonder, with vibrant and unique personalities.

They attended Haleakalā Waldorf School. We could not help but note the unusual qualities of these children and their delightful manner. Soon enough our first child was born and it was time to think about preschool. Once enrolled at HWS, we learned it was important to dress kids warmly, feed them good food, have them rest, limit their media exposure, and help ensure kids stay 'kids' for as long as possible. These ideals and many more core values at HWS mirrored our own.

Over time, our family has grown, and our involvement in the school has grown. We are delighted to see that our own children are magical, full of wonder, with vibrant and unique personalities.

We have learned trust and support. It does take a village to raise children, and we are so grateful to be a part of the village that is Haleakalā Waldorf School.

Thank you for supporting HWS!
